

Meet Lucy Stone

Thursday, October 12 • 7 p.m.

Historic Representatives Hall

State House, Concord

Miss Stone is a nationally renowned advocate for Women's Voting Rights and the Abolition of Slavery!

She has gained fame as the first woman in America to refuse to take her husband's name!

She refuses to pay property taxes on her home, stating that it is taxation without representation!

MEET IN PERSON
THIS COURAGEOUS ADVOCATE FOR WOMEN'S RIGHTS!

FREE & OPEN TO THE PUBLIC!

"All over this land women have no political existence. Laws pass over our heads that we can not unmake. Our property is taken from us without our consent.

The babes we bear in anguish and carry in our arms are not ours."

Miss Stone spoke these stirring words on May 14, 1863, at the convention of the Woman's National Loyal League

*Judith Black will portray Lucy Stone in this living history program presented by the New Hampshire Humanities Council as part of Vote: Teaching American Culture, History, Geography, Civics & Government. For more information on other public events in this series and workshops for teachers, contact the Council at
